

Free one-Day Workshop on Kauai

Ecology, Restoration, and Management of Hawaiian Stream and Riparian Systems

Organized by the U.S Army Corp of Engineers

Kauai Community College

KCC Cafeteria

9 AM – 4:30 PM

Friday, 23 May 2008

Workshop Overview

A 3-day workshop on the ecology, restoration, and management of Hawaiian stream and riparian ecosystems is planned for 20-22 May, 2008 on Oahu. A subset of presenters from that workshop will be on hand on Kauai during 23 May to provide a broad overview of the presentations made on Oahu. The intent is to transfer information and technology from that workshop to interested parties, and to provide a broad array of ideas, tools, and techniques that may be useful to individuals or organizations interested in improving the management of streams and riparian systems on Kauai. The format will include informal powerpoint presentations along with open discussion and question/answer sessions.