Internship with Reef Watch Waikiki

The UH Sea Grant College Program is seeking an intern to support its newly launched Reef Watch Waikiki program during the Spring 2009 semester. The selected intern will be expected to work approximately 20 hours per week in both office and field locations in Waikiki from February 1 through May 1, 2009. A stipend is available for this internship. Applications are due by January 23rd and interviews will be conducted shortly thereafter.

INTERNSHIP DESCRIPTION:
This intern position will support the launch of a new marine education and environmental monitoring program, Reef Watch Waikiki (RWW).
DUTIES: Intern will assist the Program Coordinator with the development of the first monitoring component which will focus on human-use monitoring. This involves developing monitoring protocol, teaching community volunteers to conduct monitoring activities, meeting with project partners and other agency staff, and creating a volunteer handbook and other educational and promotional materials. The intern may also be called upon to assist with occasional community education and outreach events that RWW participates in. The majority of the intern's time will be spent in Waikiki in both indoor and outdoor environments.

To Apply: Preference to Oahu-based University of Hawaii students. Submit letter of interest describing how you meet the above requirements, resume or C.V., transcripts (unofficial OK), names and contact information for three professional references.

All application materials and any questions should be directed to: Jennifer Barrett, Waikiki Coastal Coordinator, Email: jen.barrett@hawaii.edu

Deadline for receipt of materials: FRIDAY, January 23, 2009
