

Close WindowPOSTING DETAILS*POSITION INFORMATION

Position Number: FES039

Position Title: Associate Professor/Professor

Employee Class: Senior Staff

Grade: Associate Professor/Professor

FTE: 1

JOB POSTING LOCATION

Section: Vice Chancellor's Office

Department: 1561-Pac.Ctr for Envir. & Sustain.Dev

Location: Fiji - Laucala Campus

Reports To: Director, PACE-SD

Supervised by: Director, PACE-SD

POSTING TEXT

Purpose: This position is responsible for the lead role in coordinating the teaching team in the implementation of all project activities within the capacity building component (formal training). The incumbent will be a key player in working with doctoral and postgraduate students and staff within the University on a wide range of duties focusing on adaptation to climate change and sustainable development.

The appointee will provide dynamic leadership to staff within the Pacific Centre for Environment and Sustainable Development and the University on a wide range of duties focusing on teaching and conducting research on climate science and/or adaptation to climate change within the scope of the EU project.

Nature and Scope: These duties will include taking up the lead role in coordinating the teaching team in the implementation of all project activities within the capacity building component (formal training). The incumbent will be a key player in working with doctoral and postgraduate students and staff within the University on a wide range of duties focusing on adaptation to climate change and sustainable development.

Key Results Area:
(For Advertisement) Lead and coordinate teaching activities
Devise and conduct research within the scope of the project

Undertake any additional activities that may be required by the Director of PACE-SD

An Associate Professor must have completed a PhD in the relevant discipline with either a formal tertiary teaching qualification and significant (normally 10 years) tertiary teaching experience. In exceptional cases, a good postgraduate or professional qualification with either formal tertiary teaching qualification and extensive (normally 15 years) of tertiary teaching experience or a combination of at least 20 years of tertiary teaching and relevant industry experience, may be considered.

Minimum Qualifications:

In addition, there is a requirement for academic excellent which may be evidenced by an outstanding contribution to teaching and/or research and/or scholarship.

Preferred Qualifications:

Applicants must be a well-qualified professional with integrity and confidence with an accredited professional degree (PhD) in environmental sciences or related fields from a recognised institution. Applicants must have 5 years experience or more in research and teaching for Associate Professor and 7 years experience in the related field for Professor.

Preference will be given to applicants who have relevant consultancy experience and possess experience with the ACP/PICs.

It is essential that the appointee has:

Skills:

- Sound analytical, organizational and coordination skills
- Excellent team player in participatory process skills
- Ability to conduct research as evidenced from solid publications record
- Good interpersonal and communications skills
- Very good oral and written English language skills

It is essential that the appointee is:

Personal Qualities:

- self-motivated
- a team player
- change-oriented
- has strong attention to detail
- results focused
- committed to organization
- ethics ? a person of integrity
- capable of working after hours and during the weekends

Salary Range:

FJD 99,311 - FJD 124,592 per annum (inclusive 15% gratuity)

Length of Contract:

The position is available for a fixed term initially for one year period.

Posting Date:

01-29-2011

Closing Date:

03-11-2011

Start Date:

Special Instructions to Applicants:

COMMENTS

Close Window