

ILLUSTRATIONS

| FIGURE | FACING PAGE |
|---|-------------|
| 1. The largest living Achatina fulica Bowdich ever photographed | 46 |
| 2. Army Hill population of giant African snail, 1949 | 47 |
| 3. Achatina fulica and several possible control snails | 47 |
| 4. Giant snails sold and used as human food | 78 |
| 5. Giant snail on trunk of Artocarpus heterophyllus | 78 |
| 6. Shells showing characteristic damage | 79 |
| 7. Variability in Achatina fulica Bowdich | 79 |
| 8. The "bent-nose" type of giant African snail | 79 |
| 9. The common hermit crab preys on giant African snail | 110 |
| 10. Evidence of widespread disease found among older snail populations | 110 |
| 11. Thousands of giant snails in Rota tomato patch | 111 |
| 12. Dead snails as source of lime | 111 |
| 13. Full-grown larva of Lamprophorus tenebrosus feeding on snail | 142 |
| 14. Giant snail with two natural enemies | 142 |
| 15. Inspectors discover giant snails in Los Angeles | 143 |
| MAP | |
| Dispersion of the giant African snail | 5 |
| CHART | |
| The giant African snail and its environment | 137 |