

THE SILENT INVASION: HAWAII PEST UPDATE

What you need to know about:

Gaps in our quarantine system and why Hawaii may soon have Red Imported Fire Ants; Why some experts believe that Hawaii may have snakes; The latest information on coqui frogs, Miconia, alien seaweeds and protecting Hawaii from West Nile Virus; A Weed Risk Assessment system to keep the next “garden thug” out of Hawaii; and some proposed bills to help in the battle against invasive species.

Thursday November 14, 2002

7:00 p.m.—9:00 p.m.
State Capitol
Auditorium

Parking available in the basement, enter from Miller St.

A public service sponsored by the Coordinating Group on Alien Pest Species (CGAPS), the Island Invasive Species Committees and the office of Representative Brian Schatz. For more information, please visit www.hear.org/cgaps or call CGAPS at (808) 779-6767.